SCENARIO

RELEASE IN FULL

SIGNING OF NONPROLIFERATION TREATY
EAST ROOM - 11:30 A.M.
MONDAY - JULY 1, 1968

President enters East Room.

President sits at table immediately to the north of the rostrum.

Participants who will sign the treaty will be at tables on each side of the rostrum.

The Legal Adviser of the Department of State, Leonard Meeker, will inform the President that the treaty is ready to be signed.

The Assistant Legal Adviser, Charles Bevans, will place the treaty before Secretary Rusk, Director of ACDA Foster, and representatives of other countries, for signature. (In order to save time, the signature pages will be removed from the treaty and placed before the signers simultaneously by members of the staff. This will save considerable time in the execution of the treaty.)

After the signing has been completed, the Secretary will proceed to the rostrum and make brief remarks.

The Director of ACDA, William C. Foster, will make brief remarks.

Ambassador Dean of the United Kingdom will make brief remarks.

Minister Counselor Tcherniskov of the USSR will make brief remarks.

The President speaks.

There will be a receiving line in the Blue Room.

There will be a reception with light refreshments in the dining room.
